7PM: Cabaret avec wedding ceremony
Dancing & debauchery to follow until 1AM

Dress Code

Ladies: That bridesmaid's dress you hated (or loved), paid $300 for and only wore once? Wear it! Seriously. If you are short on bridesmaid dresses, we request evening wear. Gowns! Gloves! Red velvet! Sequins! Think shiny! Think glamour! Think slink!

Gentlemen: See above re: bridesmaid's dress. If you are short on bridesmaid dresses, we request evening wear. Ties! Tails! Kilts! Sarongs! Hats! Capes! Handcuffs!

Everyone: Dancing shoes

Dinner

Nothing kills a cabaret like cutlery (although "Mac the Knife" is delightful). Instead of a sit-down meal, there will be a delicious array of hors d'oeuvres to tempt you throughout the evening (including vegetarian options)!

Following the show, a variety of more substantial offerings will be served. Possibly including a mini-crème brûlée station! Where a chef blow torches your own personal crème brûlée! But we're not saying for sure.

However, if you :

- * are vegan
- * get "angry hungry"
- * fear waiters

you may want to chow down beforehand. Or just get really loaded at the open bar.
